AEG 67th Annual Meeting

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania SEPTEMBER 10–14, 2024

AEG's 67th Annual Meeting will be hosted in the Hilton at Penn's Landing Philadelphia. This year's theme, the Geology of the Crossroads, reflects the character of Philadelphia, a city at the crossroads between south and north, between tradition and revolution, and between history and innovation.

The meeting hotel is located on the Delaware River waterfront in Center City's Historic District and adjacent to Spruce Street Harbor Park and the Independence Seaport Museum. Within a mile of the hotel, guests may enjoy an eclectic array of restaurants and explore numerous attractions, including the Liberty Bell, the Museum of the American Revolution, the Benjamin Franklin Museum, and Society Hill.

REASONS TO ATTEND:

- Discover new technology
- Obtain professional development hours
- Network with potential clients, customers, or employers
- Learn from technical presentations
- Gain experience by giving a technical presentation
- Build relationships for long-term career satisfaction

To register and/or submit an abstract, visit www.aegannualmeeting.org.

Vol. 67, No. 1 – May 2024

AEG News (ISSN 0899-5788; USPS 954-380) is published by the Association of Environmental & Engineering Geologists (AEG) four times per year: in April, July, and December, with the Annual Report and Directory in March. The Annual Meeting Program with Abstracts is published only digitally, in September, and the digital copies are distributed at the AEG Annual Meeting. Association members receive an electronic copy of all five issues of AEG News as part of their dues. Print subscription for Association Members, which includes all three regular issues of the AEG News and the Annual Report and Directory issue, is $40 in addition to annual membership dues. Nonmember annual subscription is $50. Back copies of AEG News regular issues are $12 each. ## SUBMISSION INFORMATION

In order of preference:

1. Send files via email, preferably as attachments, to both email addresses above. Optimum file format is MSWord. Users of other software programs should convert their file to ASCII or text only. Photos and other images, charts, graphs, etc. should be sent as separate images but may be included in the Word.doc for placement purposes.
2. Images should be sent as high-resolution (250 dpi at 4" wide or larger) jpeg or tiff files and should be named with a strong identifier such as HF-Texas-John Jones—NOT P204679.jpg. Corresponding photo captions should be included in the text along with an attribution of the source/photographer.
3. The policy of AEG News editorial staff is to limit the credentials of an individual to two. No effort will be made by the AEG News editorial staff to determine whether individuals whose credentials are missing from the submitted copy actually have academic or professional credentials, nor will the staff verify the existence or correctness of the credentials submitted.

PREVIOUS ANNUAL MEETINGS

Meetings held by the Association and Chapters include discussions of professional practice issues, social functions, and field trips. Some activities are held jointly with other professional engineering or geological societies. Representatives of Chapters participate in the work of the committees of the Association. Further information on Chapter activities may be obtained by contacting Chapter officers. Meetings of the Association are held annually. The Annual Meeting, as generally scheduled, consists of a corporate business session, technical and professional practice sessions at which individuals present papers, short courses, field courses, guest activities, banquet with awards, and symposia at which invited speakers present talks related to the subject selected for the meeting.

The first meeting, on October 11, 1958, in Sacramento, CA, was restricted to essential business leading to permanent establishment of the organization. Succeeding meetings have been held as follows:

Order	Location	Chairperson	Date
2nd	Los Angeles, California	Robert G. Thomas	Oct. 3–5, 1959

A Year of Achievement, Challenge, and Success

NATHAN R. SARACENO, 2022-23 AEG PRESIDENT

As we look back on an impactful year at AEG, we are reminded of the resilience, dedication, and spirit of innovation that our members embody. This year has been a testament to our collective commitment to advancing environmental and engineering geology, enhancing professional development, and promoting the public good through our work.

Our journey over the past year has been marked by significant achievements, reflecting our commitment to the core values and objectives of AEG.

Strategic Collaborations and Partnerships

This year, AEG strengthened its commitment to advancing geoscience through our collaboration with affiliate societies. Notably, a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) signed with the Geoprofessional Business Association (GBA) (www.geoprofessional.org) marks a milestone in our ongoing efforts to foster stronger ties within the geoscience community. This partnership not only amplifies our voice but also broadens the horizon for our members to engage in richer, more diverse professional experiences.

Professional Development and Education

The Early Career Ambassador Program, a cornerstone of our efforts to engage and support the next generation of geoscientists, has continued to thrive. This program underscores our commitment to mentorship, career development, and the integration of fresh perspectives within AEG.

We continue to offer professional development and education opportunities to an expanding number of professionals through virtual means, such as our regular webinars and blog. Most recently, we've added a Virtual Day to our Annual Meetings going forward—an effort to bring a taste of the AEG Annual Meeting to those not otherwise able to attend. This has allowed us to expand our reach while continuing to serve our members with in-person events.

Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DEI)

Our DEI initiatives have been at the forefront of fostering a more inclusive and diverse professional community. The DEI symposium at the Annual Meeting and development opportunities offered throughout the year have sparked important dialogues, setting a standard for inclusivity within the geosciences.

Chapter Engagement and Leadership

The dynamic engagement at the Chapter level has reinforced the vibrant community that AEG represents. From educational field trips that delve into our geological heritage to outreach efforts that connect with the wider community, our Chapters continue to embody the essence of AEG.

2023's Challenges and Successes

The past year has not been without its challenges, yet our response to these obstacles has highlighted the adaptability and resilience of our community. We have embraced change, sought innovative solutions, and continued to move forward with a shared vision for the future of AEG.

As we look ahead, we are energized by the opportunities that lie before us. Building on our achievements, we remain focused on enhancing member services, expanding our educational outreach, and reinforcing our role as advocates for the geosciences.

The recent Annual Meeting in Portland was a resounding success, bringing together professionals from across the globe to share knowledge, network, and celebrate our collective achievements. The feedback and outcomes from this event have set a positive tone for the year ahead, and we are already looking forward to the 2024 Annual Meeting in the Birthplace of America: Philadelphia.

In Closing

My deepest gratitude goes to all our members, volunteers, and leaders for your dedication and contributions to AEG. Serving as your President has been an extraordinary privilege, and I am enthusiastic about what we will accomplish together in the coming year.

Thank you for your ongoing commitment to AEG and to the advancement of the geosciences.

AEG Is Financially Strong — Thanks to Our Members

RENEE WAWCZAK AEG 2022-23 TREASURER &
PAUL WEAVER, AEG 2023-24 TREASURER

A very successful 2023 Annual Meeting and robust membership numbers undergirded AEG's strong 2023 fiscal year. We ended the 2023 fiscal year with over 3,100 total members (1,323 full members, 150 early career members). These membership numbers reflect an overall upward trend over the past five years, which cannot be said of many other professional associations post-Covid.. With 1,211 total student members (980 U.S.-based, 231 international), our future also appears strong.

Our Treasurer's Reserve is fully funded, and at the end of 2023, stood at $461,111. Our operational savings accounts are healthy, with balances totaling approximately $306,794, and our licensure account has reserves of approximately $124,000—even with some money spent on funding for Virginia licensure lobbying in 2023. In summary, thanks to strong membership numbers, strong sponsorship, and a very successful 2023 Annual Meeting, our 2023 financial year ended with a surplus of approximately $70,183. We look ahead to 2024 optimistically but continue to act conservatively financially.

Please don't neglect to renew your membership for 2024! Full members make up 46% of our membership, but 91% of our income comes from dues paid by full members. If you're able, please consider donating an additional amount to support the continued operation of AEG as a "Sustaining Member." All Sustaining Members are recognized within the Annual Report and Directory. Thank you for your continued support!

Our operating budget for 2024 projects a balanced outcome, but we anticipate continuing our trend of ending the year with a surplus. Our 2024 Annual Meeting in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, is expected to be outstanding with especially strong participation from our Chapters in the northeast and southeast. Abstract submittal is open at <https://www.aegannualmeeting.org>.

We're looking forward to another great year!

Report from Region 9 (Mid-Atlantic)

BILL MIKALIK, REGION 9 DIRECTOR

Greetings Region 9 (Mid-Atlantic) AEG Members. My last update was in October 2023, I'm trying to reach out to the membership quarterly. Yep, missed that by a month. This is the update on the happenings of our Region. For those new members that just joined, our Region includes two Chapters: the DC-Maryland-Virginia (DMV) Chapter and the Greater Pittsburgh Chapter. My local Chapter is the DMV Chapter, and I am also the interim Chapter Chair. The goal of the DMV Chapter is to hold meetings every other month from September to May each season. Occasionally we get an opportunity with multiple presentations offered to us, and we have meetings monthly when possible. These meetings provide our Members the opportunity to get continuing education credits for those that need them for their Professional Geologist (PG) licenses; they provide our Members and students with networking opportunities and an opportunity to socialize with fellow colleagues in the local and regional geology and engineering field to discuss projects, pass along ideas, and catch up with friends.

DMV CHAPTER

The DMV Chapter held its October 2023 meeting at the Amphora Diner Deluxe in Herndon, Virginia, and its February 2024 meeting at the Brewer's Alley in Frederick, Maryland. At the October 2023 meeting, Junaid Sadeque presented "Application of Sequence Stratigraphy in Developing Bioremediation Strategy in a Complex Geological Site: An Example from the Los Angeles Basin, California." At the February 2024 meeting, James Stuby presented "Case Studies in Geophysical Surveys." The DMV Chapter is looking for good presentations for upcoming meetings. Anyone who is interested in presenting on a geologic or engineering topic, please reach out to me; I would love to hear from you.

GREATER PITTSBURGH CHAPTER

There is still no communication from the Greater Pittsburgh Chapter leadership or from the former leadership. I have tried to reach out to the former officers with no luck with a response. I'm hoping to reestablish communication with any of the Chapter officers to determine what help, if any, is required to get the Chapter up and running. It may be that new volunteers will need to step up to revive the Chapter. If anyone in the Pittsburgh area is interested in becoming an officer and reviving the chapter, let me know. We'll see what we can do to get you back up and operating.

FUTURE MEETINGS

I will be attending the Mid-Year Board of Directors Meeting in April. We will be discussing topics on membership, operations, and Chapter health, as well as other operational details. I would like to give a positive update on the Pittsburgh Chapter if I could. This year's AEG Annual Meeting will be in Philly. It's not going to get much closer to our Region in the next few years than that. Philly is a reasonable drive if you would like to see what an Annual Meeting is all about. The meeting will be held during the second week of September (10–14). The 2025 annual meeting is in Chicago.

LICENSURE IN OUR REGION

Pennsylvania, Delaware, and Virginia currently offer PG certification though issuance of a geology license. Virginia PG certification is still under threat of elimination by the current Governor's policy of wanting less occupational regulation. A 2023 General Assembly Bill was introduced that called for the elimination of the certification of geologists in Virginia. To fight this, a small group of geologists (the Virginia Geologist Workgroup), along with AEG National, have banded together to pursue legislation that strengthens geology certification in the Commonwealth. The Workgroup seeks to amend the VA statute to change the current voluntary certification program to a mandatory licensure program. A lobbyist is being sought to help gain access to legislature members to fight for keeping the VA PG certification. Assistance is needed in financing the lobbying efforts. Donations are still being accepted through the AEG website: <https://www.aegweb.org/virginia-geologist-workgroup>.

REGION 9 MEMBERSHIP NUMBERS JANUARY 2024

DMV Chapter: 89 active members and 32 students
Greater Pittsburgh Chapter: 86 active members and 29 students

MEMBERSHIP RENEWALS

If you have not renewed your 2024 AEG membership, please do so. It's past due. As a reminder, most companies have policies that will reimburse membership in a professional organization that is related to your field of practice.

AEG membership benefits include:

Registration discounts for the Annual Meeting and additional forums and symposiums

Access to AEG publications such as the Insider, AEG News, and Environmental & Engineering Geoscience Journal.

Participation and leadership opportunities in numerous operational and technical committees, AEG job board, and much more!

That's it for now. Thank you for being an AEG Member in my Region. If anyone has questions about your membership or your local Chapter in Region 9, please feel free to contact me at 540-333-1494.

Call for AEG Regional Director Nominations

AEG is calling for nominations for new Regional Directors.

The nomination process is open to all of AEG with current full membership.

You may self-nominate or nominate a fellow member.

OPEN POSITIONS AVAILABLE ARE:

Region 3 - Pacific

Region 5 - Mountain Prairie

Region 8 - South East

AEG 2024 Annual Meeting Sponsor & Exhibitor Opportunities

Exhibiting and sponsoring at AEG's Annual Meeting is effective advertising that builds lasting recognition and goodwill for your company. We expect more than 500 attendees at our 67th Annual Meeting in Philadelphia on September 10–14, 2024.

ALL SPONSORS AND EXHIBITORS receive these BASELINE benefits:

- Listing in Program with Abstracts available to all attendees on a USB drive, link on the Annual Meeting website, and emailed to our membership worldwide
- Logo on the AEG Annual Meeting website
- Ability to place your promotional materials in the attendee's registration packets
- Your logo on signage at the Annual Meeting

ANNUAL MEETING PREMIUM EVENT PACKAGE – $3500 ($4995 Value)

- Premium corner exhibit booth
- Two full meeting registrations
- Exclusive sponsorship of the opening session or meeting lanyard
- Mobile app advertising
- Your logo on the attendee registration bag
- Pop up banner at registration
- Full page ad in the program with abstracts

Other sponsorships available as well.

See www.aegannualmeeting.org for complete details.

ANNUAL MEETING GOLD EVENT PACKAGE – $2995 ($4495 Value)

- Premium corner exhibit booth
- Two full meeting registrations
- Exclusive sponsorship of the exhibitor hosted luncheon or icebreaker
- Logo on your booth location on the exhibit hall map
- Pop up banner at the event you sponsor
- Half page ad in the program with abstracts

ANNUAL MEETING SILVER EVENT PACKAGE – $2500 ($4000 Value)

- One full meeting registration
- Exclusive sponsorship of the closing reception, student/professional networking session, or special event
- Exhibit booth
- Complimentary ticket to your sponsored event
- Quarter page ad in the Program with Abstracts

EXHIBIT BOOTH ONLY – $1400

- 8-foot x 10-foot booth, including 6-foot skirted table, two chairs, sign, power, and wireless internet
- One full meeting registration

Association History

In June 1957, thirteen California engineering geologists met in Sacramento to discuss the need for a society in the specific field of engineering geology. During the next eight months, this group of Founding Charter Members set up the framework of the California Association of Engineering Geologists by formulating the aims of the organization, a definition of “engineering geology,” and membership qualifications. In February 1958, although the Constitution and Bylaws were yet to be completed, membership recruitment began. Three Sections (Los Angeles, Sacramento, and San Francisco) were established.

The Association was incorporated according to the laws of the State of California on June 19, 1960. By this action, the original Executive Committee of twelve became the Board of Directors (BOD), and requisite constitutional changes were made accordingly.

During the early years, it became increasingly apparent that a need for a similar organization existed with engineering geologists everywhere, not just in California. Evident from the first were the geologists outside the state, who were concerned with the application of geology to problems of civil engineering, and who showed a marked interest in the organization. In recognition of this need and interest, the membership voted better than ten to one in late 1962 to remove all geographical limitations on the organization and to change the name to Association of Engineering Geologists. Constitutional changes to effect this organization were subsequently completed in early 1963.

In 1963, the first Section outside of California (Washington State) was established. Seventeen sections, including two outside the United States, were recognized by 1973. On the occasion of the Association’s twenty-fifth year, twenty-two sections formed the regional units of the Association.

In 1964, AEG was accepted as a member society of the American Geological Institute.

At the Past Presidents’ Luncheon held at the 2004 Annual Meeting, the past presidents unanimously petitioned the Executive Council and Board of Directors to have the Association’s name changed to the Association of Environmental & Engineering Geologists. The proposal was put up for a vote before the membership and was approved. On September 22, 2005, the name change became official at the AEG Corporate Business Meeting at the 2005 Annual Meeting. The name change reflected important changes in the public awareness of services provided by the Association members. AEG had been serving members from both the environmental and engineering geology community for many years, and the name change served to provide formal recognition of this support.

In 2016, the AEG Board of Directors approved a reorganization of AEG’s governance structure, which was ratified by membership. This restructure introduced representation by regions aligned along state borders and within geologically similar boundaries to assist with the promotion and protection of legislative issues relating to geology, including licensure and the protection of the practice. With this structural change, members in the U.S. were now represented by at least one Director on the BOD, which was never accomplished before. An International Director was also included to represent the interests of members outside the U.S. To minimize the frequent turnover that had plagued the BOD, each Regional Director was assigned a three-year term, which transitioned into full terms over the course of three years, assuring that in any given year, only approximately one-third of the Directors would be new. Each Director was encouraged to appoint a delegate to attend BOD meetings in the case of an absence.

Under the restructure, each former Section was renamed as a Chapter. Each Chapter selected a new identifier related to the name of the closest city, geographic area, or locally known geologic feature. This change encouraged the growth of new chapters, of which we currently have twenty-six in the U.S. Chapter leadership was invited to remain connected to the Association through increased communication with their regional directors and participation in the reinvigorated Chapter Support Committee.

In 2017, the Board of Directors and other Association leaders held a special workshop to develop AEG’s Strategic Plan, which outlines ongoing goals and the steps toward their accomplishment. In response to one of these goals, AEG’s website was reimagined, reorganized, and streamlined in 2019. In 2020, a Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Operational Committee was formed to promote change and action toward understanding systemic discrimination and individual/institutional biases to foster a diverse, equitable, and inclusive community within AEG and the profession.

AEG’s membership continues to grow, as the field of Environmental and Engineering Geology gains greater recognition and the need for our organization becomes more apparent. Geologists from around the world are showing ever-increasing interest, as the importance of applied geology, in both the development and restoration of the earth, gains international recognition. Our membership is presently located in fifty-eight countries, including the U.S.

Mission, Values, and Vision Statements

AEG's Mission

AEG contributes to its Members' professional success and the public welfare by providing leadership, advocacy, and applied research in environmental and engineering geology.

AEG's Values

AEG's values are based on the belief that its Members have a responsibility to assume stewardship over their fields of expertise. In support of serving an international network of environmental and engineering geologists devoted to excellence:

- Upholding sound principles of scientific inquiry with respect to the study and evaluation of geologic processes, their impact on humans, and the human impact on Earth
- Encouraging and facilitating ongoing education and training, as well as supporting Members in their dedication to their work
- Building public appreciation for how environmental and engineering geology contribute to public safety and the protection of property

AEG's Vision

AEG is the acknowledged international leader in environmental and engineering geology, and is greatly respected for its stewardship of the profession.

AEG offers information on environmental and engineering geology useful to practitioners, scientists, students, and the public. Other geoscience organizations recognize the value of using and sharing AEG's outstanding resources.

AEG leads the profession in legislation, professional licensure, regulation, and codes and standards as each affects the practice of applied geosciences.

AEG's administration assures representation for all its Members. Its outstanding staff assists members with a wide range of services that enable them to be more effective in their professional lives. Staff regularly reviews and modifies these services to adapt to the membership's changing needs.

AEG's membership continually grows. Members and students are attracted by the educational and networking opportunities, and the quality services provided.

The Practice of Environmental and Engineering Geology

Environmental and engineering geology is the application of the practice of geology to engineering, environmental concerns, and the public health, safety, and welfare. Environmental and engineering geologists apply geologic data, techniques, and principles to the study of a) naturally occurring rock and soil materials, b) surface and subsurface fluids, and c) the interaction of introduced materials and processes with the geologic environment. Such applications allow geologists to evaluate geologic factors that affect the planning, design, construction, operation, and maintenance of engineering structures (fixed works); and develop, protect, and remediate groundwater and surface-water resources. Environmental and engineering geologists utilize specialized training and experience to provide quantitative geologic information and recommendations, as well as judgmental interpretations and recommendations.

In recent decades the scope of engineering geology has grown beyond its original, close connection to civil engineering, and environmental geology has become a significant practice. Environmental and engineering geologists now work with and for land-use planners, environmental specialists, architects, engineers, public agencies, public policy makers, private enterprises, and property owners to provide geologic information on which they base decisions. Typical activities of environmental and engineering geologists include:

1. Investigate foundations for all types of major structures, such as dams, bridges, power plants, pumping plants, airports, large buildings, and towers.
2. Evaluate geologic conditions along routes for tunnels, pipelines, canals, railways, and highways.
3. Explore and develop sources of rock, soil, and sediment for use as construction materials.
4. Evaluate siting, design, impact mitigation, reclamation, and resource characterization for aggregate mines and rock quarries.
5. Investigate and develop surface- and groundwater resources; manage groundwater basins to protect and remediate groundwater and surface-water resources that may be subject to degradation due to exposure of chemical degradation.
6. Assess and mitigate radon, asbestos, and other naturally occurring hazardous substances.
7. Evaluate geologic hazards such as landslides, faults and earthquakes, subsidence, expansive and collapsible soils, expansive bedrock, cavernous rock, acid-producing rock, and liquefaction.

8. Evaluate geologic conditions, including groundwater, that may affect residential, commercial, and industrial land use and development.
9. Evaluate geologic factors that affect construction, such as slope stability, dewatering, subdrains, grouting considerations, and excavatability.
10. Evaluate geologic conditions related to safe siting and geologic design for waste-management and -disposal facilities, and assist in establishing the basis for remedial actions for mitigation of related environmental threats from unengineered and uncontrolled waste disposal.
11. Characterize and assess geology and hydrology, and potential environmental impacts related to the geologic and hydrologic environment for environmental impact reports and permit applications.
12. Participate in land-use planning, reclaiming mined land, planning timber harvests, reviewing insurance claims, and assisting in forensic investigations.

The environmental and engineering geologist, in cooperation with the civil engineer, bears an important share of the responsibility for the public health, safety, and welfare related to engineering works that may be affected by geologic factors. The engineering profession has distinctively and effectively met its responsibility to the public through state registration laws throughout the U.S. And AEG actively supports state registration or licensure of geologists and has published a Suggested Geologists Practice Act to assist in achieving professional registration or licensure for geologists.

AEG is devoted to developing a spirit of professional responsibility on the part of engineering geologists, environmental geologists, and hydrogeologists. One goal of the Association is to focus attention on environmental and engineering geology and its expanding role. The Association seeks to maintain high professional standards and enhance awareness of the responsibility of the environmental and engineering geologist to the public in general.

In the final analysis, environmental and engineering geology is applied geology for people who want to modify the geologic environment for their use and convenience while mitigating impacts, want to live in harmony with it, and restore previous impacts to the geologic and hydrologic environment. Environmental and engineering geologists help people understand their geologic and hydrologic environment, accommodate it, and correct their geoenvironmental mistakes.

Association Awards

HONORARY MEMBERS

The Association confers an honor of such high esteem that the distinction is recognized as a membership class: Honorary Member. This recognition is given to those persons whose careers have exemplified the ideals of our organization. "At the discretion of the Board, persons who have contributed long, distinguished, and outstanding service to the advancement of Engineering Geology, Environmental Geology, Hydrogeology, or other areas of applied geology, may be elected as Honorary Members" (Restated Bylaws Article III, Section 3.2[a][2]). Nominations for this award are due March 15 and should be submitted to the President.

KARL AND RUTH TERZAGHI MENTOR AWARD

This award, established in 2008, recognizes outstanding individuals for their achievements as Mentors throughout their career. The recipient should be an individual who has made lifelong efforts in providing professional, ethical, and technical mentoring for environmental and engineering geologists. The recipient need not be a member of any particular class within AEG and shall not be an active member of either the Executive Council (EC) or the Board of Directors of AEG at the time of award. Also, this special recognition is intended to recognize members in academia, where mentoring is a natural part of their job, and members who have made extraordinary efforts in the workforce, where it is less expected but equally important. Nominations are due March 15 and should be submitted to an EC member.

CLAIRE P. HOLDREDGE AWARD

This award, first established in 1962 by AEG, is named in honor of Claire P. Holdredge, a founding member and the first President of the Association. The award is presented for a publication by an AEG Member(s) within the five previous years that is adjudged to be an outstanding contribution to the Engineering Geology profession. Nominations for this award are made by the membership at large to the Awards Committee. The Committee, at its discretion, selects a candidate from the nominees for confirmation by the President.

The award, not necessarily conferred annually, is presented at the Annual Banquet.

Nominations are due March 15 and should be submitted to a member of AEG's Executive Council.

RICHARD H. JAHNS DISTINGUISHED LECTURER IN ENGINEERING GEOLOGY AWARD

This award was established in 1988 in co-sponsorship with the Engineering Geology Division of the Geological Society of America to provide funding for a distinguished Engineering Geologist to present an annual series of lectures at academic institutions, in order to increase awareness of students about careers in Engineering Geology. The award is presented during the banquet at the Annual Meeting proceeding the award year.

Nominations are due January 31 and should be submitted to a member of AEG's Executive Council.

FLOYD T. JOHNSTON SERVICE AWARD

This award, established in 1982 on the occasion of his retirement on the Association's twenty-fifth anniversary, is named in honor of Floyd T. Johnston, the first Executive Director of the Association. The award is presented to a Member for outstanding active and faithful service to the Association over a minimum period of nine years to coincide with Floyd's tenure as Executive Director. Contemporary board members are not eligible until one year after leaving office.

Nominations for this award are made by the membership at-large to the Awards Committee. For nominations to be valid, they must be endorsed by three members having different Chapter affiliations. The Committee chooses the candidate(s) from the nominations for consideration and selection by the President. The award, not necessarily conferred annually, is presented at the Annual Banquet.

Nominations are due March 15 and should be submitted to a member of AEG's Executive Council.

DOUGLAS R. PITEAU OUTSTANDING YOUNG MEMBER AWARD

This award, established in 1985, is named in honor of Douglas R. Piteau, a deceased Member of AEG who distinguished himself early in his career as an expert on landslides and rock slope stability. It is presented to a Member who is 35 or under (not 36 until January 1 in the year following the Annual Meeting in which the Award is given) and has excelled, either singly or in combination, in the following areas: Technical Accomplishment, Service to the Association, and Service to the Engineering Geology Profession.

Each Chapter is, at its discretion, to choose an individual deserving of the Award, to publicize the nomination at the Chapter level, and to nominate the individual to the Awards Committee. Nominations can also be made by the membership at-large to the Awards Committee. The Committee, at its discretion, selects a candidate from the nominees for the President's confirmation. The award, not necessarily conferred annually, is presented at the Annual Banquet.

Nominations are due March 15 and should be submitted to a member of AEG's Executive Council.

THE SCHUSTER MEDAL

The Schuster Medal is a joint award from AEG and the Canadian Geotechnical Society that recognizes excellence in geohazards research in North America.

All nominees for the Schuster Medal must meet at least two of the following criteria:

- Professional excellence in geohazards research with relevance to North America—Medalists should be residents of North America
- Significant contribution to public education regarding geohazards

- International recognition for a professional career in geohazards
- Influential geohazards research or development of methods or techniques
- Teacher of students who work on geohazards issues

An awards committee containing representatives from AEG and the Canadian Geotechnical Society will select future candidates. The award will be presented at the annual or special topical meetings of either society, as deemed appropriate by the Awards Committee.

ADVOCACY AWARD

Established in 2018, this annual award is to recognize and showcase the accomplishments of effective advocates for geological practice and for their advocacy and outreach work to promote the value of geological practice among the general public and/or a legislative body. Nominations are due March 1 and should be submitted to a member of AEG's Executive Council.

OUTSTANDING REVIEWER FOR ENVIRONMENTAL AND ENGINEERING GEOSCIENCE JOURNAL AWARD

The Outstanding Reviewer for Environmental and Engineering Geoscience Journal Award, first presented in 2007, is given to an individual who has provided extended service by reviewing numerous manuscripts. This service includes providing, in a timely manner, critical evaluations, detailed comments, corrections of grammar and syntax, thoughtful suggestions for changes to improve the quality of the manuscript, and guidance to the editors in making a decision regarding the manuscript.

Environmental and Engineering Geoscience journal is always looking for reviewers. If you would like more information, please contact AEG at president@aegweb.org.

THE OUTSTANDING ENVIRONMENTAL AND ENGINEERING GEOLOGIC PROJECT AWARD

The Outstanding Environmental and Engineering Geologic Project Award was established in 1993 to recognize a project that meets the following criteria:

1. Displays national or international significance.
2. Demonstrates the application of the principles of environmental and engineering geology to the solution of a problem affecting the public.
3. Shows recognition of and respect for the environment and history and culture of the project area.
4. Provides an opportunity for public education in:
  - a. environmental and engineering geology,
  - b. environmental issues, and
  - c. culture and history of the area.

The Association has gained a significant amount of public relations value from this award.

Award Conditions

1. Only one project may be designated per year.
2. The award is not necessarily given every year.
3. The award consists of:
  - a. A large plaque to be placed in public view on or near the project.
  - b. A small metal photo-reproduced copy of the award plaque on a wooden plaque to be presented to each project honoree.
- c. The dedication date on the plaque shall be the date of the opening session of the AEG Annual Meeting.
4. The award ceremony shall be the opening session of the Annual Meeting, followed, if possible, by a general technical session or symposium on a topic related to the Outstanding Environmental and Engineering Geologic Project.

Selection Procedure

1. Projects may be nominated by anyone, but must be endorsed by an AEG Chapter. The Planning Committee for the next Annual Meeting is encouraged to nominate an appropriate project in their region.
2. Nomination documentation must be sent to the President, who serves as chair of the selection committee, at least 90 days prior to the next midyear Board meeting.
3. The Selection Committee shall consist of the President (chair) and the two immediate Past Presidents.
4. Nomination documentation shall include and describe:
  - a. National or international significance of the project.
  - b. Project description, including history of project need, problem solved, environmental and engineering geologic principles applied, protection and enhancement of the environment, benefit to the public, advancement of public's understanding of geology and engineering geology, enhancement of local cultural and historical understanding, and photographs of the project.
  - c. Proposed citation for large plaque
  - d. Proposed public location of plaque.
  - e. Proposed technical session or symposium moderator/organizer and topics including titles and authors.

- f. Author committed to write the article about the project for the December issue of AEG News.
- g. Person committed to organizing the award ceremony, including invitations to speakers, representatives, project honorees, and public representation, and preparing printed ceremony program.
- h. Person who will coordinate production of the large plaque and other awards.
- i. Name, title, and address of project honorees.

Nomination documentation must be sent to the President, who serves as chair of the selection committee, at least 90 days prior to the Mid-Year Board Meeting.

Previous Awards

- 1993 The San Antonio River Walk, San Antonio, TX
- 1994 Interstate Highway 70 through Glenwood Canyon, CO
- 1995 The West Coast Basin, Dominguez Gap, and Alamos Seawater Intrusion Barrier System, Los Angeles, CA
- 1996 No Award Bestowed
- 1997 Westside Light Rail Transit Tunnel, Portland, OR
- 1998 Spirit Lake Memorial Highway (State Route 504), Gateway to Mount St. Helens, WA
- 1999 Inland Sea Shorebird Reserve, Mining with Environmental Enhancement, Salt Lake County, UT
- 2000 Silicon Valley Groundwater Cleanup Project, CA
- 2001 Weldon Springs Site Remedial Action Project, MO
- 2002 Sparks Marina Park, Sparks, NV

- 2017 Colorado Inactive Mine Reclamation Project
- 2018 Calaveras Dam Replacement Project, CA
- 2019 Boone Dam Internal Erosion Remediation Project, TN
- 2020 2018 U.S. Route 30 Emergency Landslide Remediation
- 2021 The San Antonio River Improvements Project
- 2022 Lake Mead Intake No. 3 and Low Lake Level Pumping Station
- 2023 Historic Columbia River Highway and State Trail (Historic U.S. Route 30)

STUDENT PROFESSIONAL PAPER

The Association acknowledges the work of geology students by the Student Professional Paper Contest. Annually, the Association may make two awards at the Annual Meeting to student members in good standing in undergraduate and/or graduate divisions. The professional paper award is made for papers of merit prepared in the style of the Environmental & Engineering Geoscience journal. The award in each category includes a cash prize, certificates to the student member and their academic institution, and publication of the paper in the Spring issue of Environmental & Engineering Geoscience.

Topics of the papers worthy of publication may range from literature searches to original work. The papers are judged by seven full members of AEG selected by the

- 1980 William F. Cole, Texas A&M University (Graduate)
- 1981 Cynthia L. Cason, Texas A&M University (Graduate)
- 1982 Clifford Pollock, Texas A&M University (Graduate)
- 1982 George W. Skladal, Jr., Texas A&M University (Undergraduate)
- 1984 Richard S. Hazen, University of California, Los Angeles (Graduate)
- 1985 Alan B. Brillinger, Texas A&M University (Graduate)
- 1986 Jeffrey S. Neathery, Texas A&M University (Graduate)
- 1987 Katherine T. Clemence, Texas A&M University (Undergraduate)
- 1987 Greg D. Naugle, Colorado School of Mines (Graduate)
- 1988 James S. Eblen, Texas A&M University (Undergraduate)
- 1988 Paul M. Santi, Texas A&M University (Graduate)
- 1989 T. E. Beehner, Texas A&M University (Graduate)
- 1993 David G. Harwood, Texas A&M University (Graduate)
- 1994 Clifton F. Wise, Texas A&M University (Graduate)
- 1996 Eric Triplett, University of Missouri Rolla (Undergraduate)

President. None of the judges may be employed by an academic institution. Each paper is assessed on a number of criteria. The award in each of the two categories is made to the student whose paper has received the highest score above a minimum level.

Papers should be written and submitted in standard AEG/Geological Society of America journal format (available at <https://www.aegweb.org/e-eg-supplements>). Electronic copies should be submitted to the Student Professional Paper Contest Coordinator, Sarah Kalika, at president@aegweb.org. Please send either PDF or Microsoft Word files with all figures compressed.

The deadline for entry submission is May 1, 2024.

- 1996 Kirk Palicki, University of California, Berkeley (Graduate)
- 1997 M. R. Cox, University of Missouri Rolla (Undergraduate)
- 1998 Martin J. Woodard, Radford University (Graduate)
- 2000 Christoph Michael Goss, Colorado School of Mines (Graduate)
- 2002 Bradley A. Crenshaw, Colorado School of Mines (Graduate)
- 2003 Briget C. Doyle, University of Missouri-Rolla (Graduate)

“Chapter on the Rise” Award: Great Basin Chapter

OUTSTANDING STUDENT CHAPTER AWARD

The AEG Board of Directors established the Outstanding Student Chapter award in 2001 to honor the AEG Student Chapter judged to have excelled over all others in a given year. The award is AEG's way of recognizing a Student Chapter for its outstanding performance. The award is also intended to help revitalize and encourage student chapters by challenging them to excel in a number of areas. Application for the award should be made for the preceding academic year. The required application can be made in the form of the annual report of the chapter activities that is required by the student activities coordinator on the home campus, or as a report directly to the AEG Board of Directors (BOD). A committee composed of three members of the BOD is chosen each year at the Mid-Year BOD Meeting to review the applications. The committee selects the Outstanding Student Chapter and two runner-up chapters, and presents its selection to the President of the Association at least 60 days prior to the Annual Meeting. Nominations are due June 15 and should be submitted to a member of AEG's Executive Council.

This award shall be presented to a representative of the chapter at the Annual Meeting. The award shall consist of an engraved plaque for the chapter's host school, a cash award, and registration for two student representatives at the Annual Meeting. Runner-up chapters will receive certificates and smaller cash amounts.

Judging Criteria:

1. Number of Chapter meetings and attendance.
2. Number of field trips and attendance.
3. Attendance at Chapter meetings.
4. Attendance and talks at AEG Annual Meeting.
5. Talks at Chapter student nights and total student attendance at the event.
6. Outreach to other campuses to start new student chapters.
7. Number of members at the time of the report and percentage increase from prior year.

8. Fundraising activities.
9. Help at Chapter level: meetings, short courses, etc.
10. Help at AEG Annual Meeting and Board Meetings.
11. Number of applicants (and recipients) to Marliave, Stout, and Tilford Scholarships.
12. Other awards the Chapter or individual students have won.

Annual reports should be written in outline form following the above-listed criteria. The order of the report should follow the above list.

- 2002 Colorado School of Mines
Runner-up: Kent State University
- 2003 First Place: University of Wisconsin, Madison
- 2004 Portland State University
- 2005 Portland State University
- 2006 Kent State University
- 2007 Portland State University
- 2008 Portland State University
- 2009 University of Wisconsin – Madison
- 2010 Radford University
- 2011 Portland State University
- 2012 Portland State University
- 2013 Colorado School of Mines
- 2014 No Award Bestowed
- 2015 No Award Bestowed
- 2016 Portland State University
- 2017 Wake Tech Community College
- 2018 Rutgers University – Newark
- 2019 University of Utah
- 2020 No Award Bestowed
- 2021 No Award Bestowed
- 2022 No Award Bestowed
- 2023 No Award Bestowed

2022–23 Presidential Citations

Presidential citations are issued at the termination of the President's service at the Corporate Business Meeting. The awards are intended to recognize and thank individuals for their assistance to the Association and/or the President during the past year.

AEG 2022–23 President Nate Saraceno awarded the following citations.

Executive Council:

For your commitment to the Executive Council and dedication to the day-to-day decision-making so critical to the Association:

Sarah Kalika, Renee Wawczak, Paul Weaver, and Maddie German

Board of Directors:

For your participation as a Regional Director, connecting the Chapters and the Association and driving the future of the Association:

Chris Hundemer, Darrin Hasham, Mark Swank, Jesse Ruzicka, Denise Garcia, Rusty Branch, Bruce Rogers, Bill Mikalik, Curt Schmidt, and Martha Whitney

For doing the work of the Association as the Early Career Ambassador, providing new perspective to the Board of Directors and value to AEG's early career members:

Gabby Jakubowski

Chapter Officers:

For your participation as a Chapter Officer, serving your community and connecting the membership to the Association:

Alaska: Debasmita Misra and Brian Mullen

Atlanta: Steven Stokowski and Matthew Howe

Carolinas: Jonathan Gerst, Jennifer Thomas, Laura Elliot, and Walt Plekan

Chicago: Alisa Allen, Andrew Stumpf, Chris Stohr, and Cornelia Marin

DC-Maryland-Virginia: Mark Cox and Vida Golubovic

Great Basin: Ryan Berg, Chris Betts, Kathleen Rodrigues, and Merrily Graham

Greater Pittsburgh: Carl Jacklitch, Chelsea Lyle, Heather Krivos, and John Malizia

Inland Empire: Frank Jordan and Mark Doerschlag

AEG Foundation

www.aegfoundation.org / staff@aegfoundation.org

1954 Mountain Blvd. #13036 Oakland, CA 94611

Established by three Past Presidents of the Association of Engineering Geologists (AEG) in 1992.

The AEG Foundation's mission is to advance the science, scholarship, and education in environmental and engineering geology for the benefit of all.

Funds for Students*Beardsley-Kuper Fund

This fund provides financial support for field camp tuition and expenses. Established in 2009 by Cathryne Beardsley with her daughter Dorian Kuper and son-in-law Tom Kuper.

Carolinas Scholarship

Established in 2015 with initial funds from the Carolinas Chapter, this fund supports geologic studies by undergraduate students enrolled in a geology or geoscience program at an accredited university in North or South Carolina.

Diversity Scholarship

In mid-2020, AEG established the Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Committee (DEIC). Leaders and members of the DEIC have established this fund to support academic scholarships for qualified college/university students.

Diversity Field Trips Fund

Supports geoscience enrichment field trips for junior high school (or middle school) and high school students and academic scholarships for college/university students.

Lemke Fund

This scholarship was established in 2007 in memory of June and Richard Lemke and provides supporting funds to AEG Student Members presenting at professional meetings at which AEG plays a substantial role.

Marliave Fund

Established in 1968, Marliave scholarship awards are intended to support academic activity and reward outstanding scholarship in engineering geology and geological engineering.

Mathewson Fund

This fund provides funds to both undergraduate and graduate AEG Student Members studying in Texas. Established in 2007 by the Texas Chapter of the AEG, the Fund is named for Dr. Christopher Mathewson.

John Moylan Student Chapter Grant

This program supports AEG Student Chapters for field trips, visiting professionals, and other program needs through small grants.

Shlemon Quaternary Engineering Geology Fund

Established in 2016, the fund supports geologic studies by students at the graduate level. The fund was established by a generous gift from Roy Shlemon, Honorary Member of AEG.

Susan Steele Weir (Women of "Steele") Scholarship Fund

The AEG Foundation established this fund in 2017 to promote and support the continued development and advancement of women in the profession of engineering geology.

Stout Fund

Established in 1994 in memory of Martin Stout, this fund supports graduate and undergraduate students in environmental and engineering geology.

Tilford Fund

The Tilford Fund was established in 1998 in memory of Norm Tilford. It awards grants to graduate and undergraduate students in support of field studies.

Robert J. Watters Great Basin Chapter Scholarship Fund

This fund supports geoscience studies by students at the undergraduate and graduate levels.

West-Gray Scholarship Fund

Established in 2015 with generous donations from AEG Past Presidents Terry West and Richard Gray, the West-Gray supports undergraduate and graduate geology students in the eastern half of the United States through scholarship grants.

Funds for Practitioners

Cornerstone Fund

This fund supports university-level teaching of engineering geology and geological engineering in the U.S.

Greatest Need Fund

Donations support program areas of greatest current need.

Jahns Fund

This fund supports speaker programs, including the Jahns Lecturer selected by the AEG and the Engineering Geology Division of the Geological Society of America.

K–14 Education Fund

The purpose of this fund is to encourage K–14 students, K–14 teachers, and elementary, middle, and high schools to explore methods and technologies to teach geology.

Legget Fund

Supports traditional and web-based publications in environmental and engineering geology, including public information outreach and a web-based library. Supports small research projects that advance the science and application of environmental and engineering geology and related fields.

Shlemon Continuing Education Fund

This fund supports local workshops through AEG Sections.

Shlemon Specialty Conference Fund

Initiated by Roy Shlemon in 1997, this fund supports specialty conferences in engineering geology and related fields.

2023–24 Officers/Structure

Introduction

The Association of Environmental & Engineering Geologists (AEG) initially was developed to meet the professional needs of geologists who are applying their scientific training and experience to the broad fields of civil and military engineering. Engineering Geologists have worked in close coordination with construction, foundation and highway engineers, hydraulic engineers and hydrologists, and representatives of other branches of civil engineering and related scientific professions.

The Association of Engineering Geologists emerged in 1963 from its parent organization, the California Association of Engineering Geologists. This Directory contains a summary of the history of the two organizations and is intended to introduce AEG to prospective members, others in the engineering and geologic professions, and the public. This Directory assembles the Association's major documents: the Mission, Values, and Vision; Principles of Ethical Behavior; Constitution; the Bylaws; and Policies. The Association, through these documents, endeavors to aid the public welfare and promote environmental and engineering geology. The membership carries out these responsibilities through general and technical publications, local geographic sections and their meetings, recognition of individual technical achievement, encouragement and financial assistance to students, formulation of policy statements on important topics, and specific pursuits of various national committees formed of knowledgeable specialists. This Directory also contains qualifications required to gain membership (Bylaws, Article III), membership rosters, and other general reference information on the Association.

Association Structure

The Board of Directors of the Association is the principal policymaking body of the Association and is responsible for management of its affairs and funds. It is composed of the four (4) elected officers, the immediate Past President, and the eleven (11) Regional Directors. Members of the Board take office at the close of the Annual Corporate Meeting following their election and serve until the close of the next Annual Corporate Meeting.

The Executive Council (EC) consists of the elected Association officers and the immediate Past President. Between meetings of the Board, the EC attends to the routine affairs of the Association and has the powers of the Board. The EC submits reports to the Board of the intervening meetings.

Local Chapters are the basic regional units of the Association. Contact information for the current 26 AEG Chapters can be found starting on page 77.

AEG News Disclaimer

Authors alone are responsible for views expressed in signed articles. Advertisers and their agencies are solely responsible for the content of all advertisements printed and also assume responsibility for any claims arising therefrom against the publisher. AEG and AEG News reserve the right to reject any advertising copy.

Chapters

New Chapters of AEG may be formed where desired, by written application to the Board of Directors signed by eight or more members from a given area. New Chapters are supported by such local dues, assessments, and/or fundraising campaigns as are necessary. We heartily encourage groups of Environmental and Engineering Geologists elsewhere to form new AEG Chapters in their areas. Please write to the Secretary for further details.

Student Chapters

By the end of 2023, AEG had developed 28 student chapters at colleges and universities to promote Environmental and Engineering Geology. The Student Chapter Coordinator works with the faculty advisors to develop successful Chapter programs. Student chapters are the training grounds of future members. The vibrancy of the profession and this organization is developed at these institutions. The Association recognizes this potential and strives to develop new AEG chapters at schools with appropriate programs. Please contact AEG a member of AEG's Executive Council for additional information. Student members of individual chapters should be contacted through their advisors.

Student resources, including Student Chapter contacts and a Student Chapter Application are available through AEG's website:

2023–24 Committees & Technical Working Groups

Operating Committees

Committees are activated or deactivated by the President, in consultation with the Executive Council and/or Board of Directors. Committee chairs are appointed by the President unless the committee charter states otherwise, and Committee activities are managed by the Vice President/President-Elect, as Coordinator of Committees. Committee chairs are requested to provide semi-annual reports of activities to the Vice President/President-Elect at least 30 days prior to each Board of Directors meeting. The Vice President/President-Elect shall provide coordination among the committees, liaise between the committees and the Board, and distribute Association information to various committee chairs. [Renee Wawczak]

Annual Meeting

Annual Meeting Committee members are appointed by the host Chapter to plan and carry out the activities of each Annual Meeting. The individual Committee is formed usually two or three years ahead of the Annual Meeting and carries through the final report, generally six months following the Annual Meeting. Each Committee is responsible for the financial, logistical, and technical planning of an Annual Meeting and is expected to report progress to the Board at stated intervals. [Curt Schmidt and Niall Henshaw, 2024, Philadelphia, PA]

Meetings Advisory

The Meetings Advisory Committee provides guidance and technical assistance to the current Annual Meeting Planning Committee and any other nationally sponsored conference. The committee also maintains a continuity of experience and management of the Association's national meetings. The Committee updates the Annual Meeting Guidebook following each meeting to ensure its accuracy. This Committee is also responsible for the development and implementation of the strategies related to National Meeting goals in the Association's Strategic Plan. [Paul Weaver and Sarah Kalika]

Awards

The Awards Committee is responsible for selecting recipients for the Claire P. Holdredge Award, Floyd T. Johnston Service Award, and the Douglas R. Piteau Outstanding Young Member Award (see Awards, pages 19–28, for more information). [Rosalind Munro]

Honorary Member Award

The Honorary Member Screening Committee shall consist of the President as Chair, two immediate living Past Presidents, and two Honorary Members appointed by the President. The Committee shall review all Honorary Member nominations received each year and review each candidate based on the defined criteria. The Committee will make its recommendation to the Board for approval. [Sarah Kalika]

Schuster Medal Award

The Schuster Medal Award Committee is charged with selecting a recipient for the Schuster Medal (see Awards, page 23, for more information). [Robert Schuster]

Terzaghi Mentor Award

The Terzaghi Outstanding Mentor Award Committee (Committee) is charged with developing objective criteria for the award, reviewing nominations for the award, developing and maintaining a list of potential award nominees/candidates, and voting on proposed nominees for the award. The Committee consists of six total members of the Association; five voting and one nonvoting. The five voting members include one Past President, one Honorary Member, one Floyd T. Johnston Award recipient, one Piteau Award recipient, and one Karl and Ruth Terzaghi Outstanding Mentor Award recipient. The current Past President shall serve as the Committee Chair and be a nonvoting member. [Nate Saraceno]

Communications

The Communications Committee oversees the Association's publications and website and is responsible for maintaining their continuing quality and advising the Board of areas where publications and website may be improved, on new special publications, and the publication and website budget. The Manager shall be the Vice President of the Association. [Renee Wawczak, Manager; Isaac Pope and Bill Godwin, Co-Chairs]

Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Committee (DEIC)

The DEIC Committee coordinates efforts to increase diversity, equity, and inclusion in the Association and in the Environmental and Engineering Geology profession. These efforts will include challenging ourselves, as members of the AEG and society, to understand systemic discrimination and individual/institutional biases in order to shift our organization and profession to be more welcoming and inclusive to all. These efforts will also include developing and implementing strategic initiatives, large to small in scope, to foster a diverse, equitable, and inclusive community in our profession. [Minda Moe and Matt Buche]

Finance

The Finance Committee's primary mission is to review the budget of AEG and advise and educate the Board of Directors and AEG Members about financial matters independent of the Board of Director's Executive Council. [Kevin Richards]

Governance

The Governance Committee reports to the Board of Directors (BOD) and is charged with acting as an advisor to the BOD in the following respects: 1) review and summarize options for BOD and Executive Council (EC) structure, policy, bylaws, and protocol; 2) provide training and monitor performance of the BOD & EC; and 3) interact at regular intervals with the BOD, EC, and associated committees, including but not necessarily limited to Strategic Planning and Finance. The committee is made up of current and/or former BOD members who are not serving on the EC. [Chris Hundemer]

K–14 Education

The K–14 Education Committee advocates the science of geology in K–14 education. The committee is responsible for leading initiatives in K–14 Education, being responsive to K–14 issues, and advocating the professions within the geologic sciences to K–14 students and educators. When a new member joins our committee, their background and experience helps to provide opportunities for implementation of innovative solutions to K–14 geoscience issues, resulting in better geology education for children. [Ryan Fandray]

Licensure

The Licensure Committee's primary function is to provide the Association with guidance and support in its implementation of the AEG Policy on Licensure. [TBD]

Nominations

The Nominations Committee consists of the last three (3) living Past Presidents of the Association. The most recent living Past President serves as the Manager. The Nominations Committee selects, from the membership, possible nominees to serve as Officers of the Association and makes recommendations to the Board of Directors for selection of such members. Each nominee is contacted by the Committee to determine his or her willingness to serve, company support, and availability of time in the specified office, if elected. The Nominations Committee recommends to the Board, for approval, a candidate for each office. [Nate Saraceno]

Publications

This Committee oversees the Association's publications and is responsible for maintaining their continuing quality and advising the Board of areas where publications may be improved, on new special publications, and the publication budget. The Manager shall be the Vice President of the Association. [Renee Wawczak]

AEG News

AEG News contains information on the profession, committee reports, the President's message, and other information and news of interest to the membership. AEG News is published in Spring, Summer, and Winter. Two special issues are also published: the Annual Report and Directory is published in March or April, and the Annual Meeting Program with Abstracts is distributed at the meeting. [Martha Whitney,

Acquisitions Editor; Bill Roman, Content Editor]

Environmental & Engineering Geoscience

This respected journal was published continuously for more than 30 years as the Bulletin of the Association of Engineering Geologists, the authoritative journal in its field. In 1995, renamed, it became a joint publication of AEG and the Geological Society of America (GSA). At the same time, it was broadened to include several referenced articles on applied topics in the environmental and hydrological geosciences. It continues familiar features such as the Geology of Cities series, offering scientific insights into geological factors controlling urban challenges and opportunities; technical notes on current topics; a comment and reply forum for discussion among authors and readers; and book reviews of interest to practicing professionals. Environmental & Engineering Geoscience is co-edited by AEG and GSA and contains new theory, applications, and case histories illustrating the dynamics of the fast-growing environmental/applied disciplines. Four issues are published annually, with about 500 pages total, plus covers featuring geological studies of special interest. [Thomas Oommen and Eric Peterson, Editors]

Geology of the Cities of the World

The Committee actively seeks contributions of manuscripts for the Geology of the Cities of the World series of technical papers. The Committee was established in 1980 and its members serve as special editors to the incoming papers of the series. [Terry Cordero]

Special Publications

Special Publications of the Association focus on specific topics of interest and value to practicing professionals in the fields of Engineering, Environmental, and Groundwater Geology. The special Publications Committee proactively oversees all such publications of the Association, from initial concept and market analysis, through editing. The Committee is responsible for soliciting AEG Board of Directors approval for proposed publications and establishes document formats and quality control procedures for approved publications. The Committee coordinates its activities and planning with the Technical Working Group Chairs and the editors of AEG News and Environmental & Engineering Geoscience. [Isaac Pope]

Chapter Support

The Chapter Support Committee is responsible for actively assisting and supporting Chapters and their programs. In addition, the Committee is responsible for the development and implementation of the strategies related to Chapter Support goals in the Association's Strategic Plan. [Curt Schmidt]

Strategic Initiative

The Strategic Initiative Committee is charged with coordinating successful implementation of AEG's Strategic Plan. This committee is also charged with reviewing and updating the Strategic Plan on a regular basis, with input from various sources including the AEG membership, other geoscience organizations, and outside experts on strategic planning and implementation. The committee is made up of AEG members and AEG Executive Council members. [Dale Andrews]

Student and Young Professional Support

The Student and Young Professional Support Committee is responsible for the development and implementation of strategies related to supporting and increasing student and young professional members, and related goals in the Association's Strategic Plan. [Francisco Saldana and Rick Kolb]

Membership Committee

AEG promotes the value that environmental and engineering geologists bring to each project. The Membership Committee advocates on behalf of members to engineering groups, other geoscience organizations, and local and national legislative leaders. AEG also supports members' efforts to establish, enhance, or defend professional licensure through funding, communication, and collaborative efforts. [Visty Dalal and Rick Kolb]

Website

Comments or questions about the website can be directed to AEG leadership. [president@aegweb.org]

Technical Working Groups

Responsibilities

Technical Working Groups are activated or deactivated by the President, in consultation with the Executive Council and/or Board of Directors. Chairs are appointed by the President, and Working Group activities are managed by the Immediate Past President. Technical Working Groups are requested to 1) provide material for each AEG News that may include activity reports, news items, meeting notices, or important literature references; 2) organize and hold symposia at an Annual Meeting at least every three years; and 3) update the technical portion of the website with literature references and technical resources annually.

Coordinator of Technical Working Groups

The Immediate Past President is the Coordinator of Technical Working Groups and shall provide coordination among the Groups, liaise between the Groups and the Board, and distribute Association information to various technical working group chairs. [Nate Saraceno]

Coastal Hazards

This group is charged with disseminating information, organizing conferences and workshops, developing training, and writing general and technical articles regarding geologic hazards along the coasts of the U.S.—Atlantic, Arctic, Caribbean, Great Lakes, Gulf, and Pacific. The group fosters the integration of engineering and environmental geologic information into policy and management actions in order to reduce the nation's future vulnerability to these hazards and to create more resilient and sustainable environments along the nation's coasts. [Curt Schmidt, Cheryl Hapke, Rick Kolb]

Dams & Levees

This group has the responsibility of reviewing environmental, engineering geology, and geotechnical questions and issues related to dam siting, construction, and safety. The group makes recommendations to the Board for consideration with respect to position or policy statements on dam-related matters. The technical working group activities include informing our membership of new and emerging technologies; improving public awareness of dam safety issues and promoting our profession; providing input to local, state, or federal regulations; and publishing papers and organizing AEG Dam Symposia and Short Courses. [Cassie Wagner and Hawkins Gagnon]

Environmental Characterization and Remediation

This group is charged with keeping AEG members current on regulations and regulatory guidance and methods of investigation and remediation of soil, groundwater, sediments, and surface water impacted by release of petroleum products, chemical constituents, mining wastes, and naturally occurring contaminants such as asbestos and radon. [Loren Lasky and Patty Bryan]

Geologic and Seismic Hazards

This group was formed in 2020 and focuses on disseminating information to AEG membership regarding regulatory and technical guidance, existing and emerging methods and technologies, and case history examples related to assessment of geologic and seismic hazards for a variety of facility types and structures. [Gerry Stirewalt and Courtney Johnson]

Geophysics

This group is charged with keeping the membership current on methods, applications, and limitations of surface, subsurface, and on-water geophysical surveys for engineering and environmental projects. [Doug Lambert and Kate McKinley]

GEO-Unmanned Aerial Systems

This group is charged with keeping the membership current on the utilization of unmanned aerial systems (UAS) and its ancillary technologies for geo-professionals. It fosters cross-discipline collaboration; provides best-practice standards and guidelines; explores the vast potential of UAS-derived datasets; and aids individuals and organizations in developing responsible and successful UAS programs by publishing white papers and hosting seminars, webinars, and technical short courses. [Bryan Simpson]

Landslides

This group is charged with keeping the membership current on information on the stability of slopes, landslides, and rockslides. It also provides data on the investigation and mitigation of slope stability and hazards and coordinates with similar committees of other technical organizations. [James Arthurs]

Naturally Occurring Asbestos

This group is charged with keeping the membership current on news and regulatory information regarding management, mapping, sample collection, laboratory analysis techniques, construction mitigation, education, and regulatory requirements related to the natural occurrences of asbestos and asbestiform minerals in the U.S. [Sarah Kalika and Mark Bailey]

Tunneling

This group is charged with keeping the membership current on investigative and construction practices on tunneling and other underground excavation. [Paul Headland, Ike Isaacson, and Michael Piepenburg]

AEG Members are invited to access our online job board.

Post a position if you need high-quality, well-prepared workers. And job seekers can search the board for career advancement opportunities. This is a major perk of AEG membership.

AEG's Strategic Goals:

- 1. Communication: To improve the AEG experience and communicate it effectively.
- 2. Profession: To promote and advance the value of applied geology.
- 3. Membership: To provide members of AEG and the applied geology profession a place to thrive personally and professionally.
- 4. Diversity: To increase diversity, equity, and inclusion among the geosciences and AEG.

Add Your Company to This List of Supporters!

An investment in AEG is an investment in the future of engineering and environmental geology.

For information on sponsorship opportunities:
<https://aegweb.org/corporate-sponsors-and-advertising>

Consider volunteering on an AEG committee!

The Licensure Committee—which provides guidance on legislative issues—currently needs a co-chair and other leaders.

Contact Renee Wawczak at renee.wawczak@gmail.com and see aegweb.org/licensure-resources for more info.

COMMITTEE CHAIRS:

Submit an article for the Summer issue of AEG News by June 30.

Show our membership the work you're doing. It's the best way to generate interest.

See the table of contents page for submission information and a link to our detailed guidelines.

AEG Encourages Members to Participate in Chapter Events

Active participation in your AEG Chapter can be rewarding in a number of ways—both personally and professionally. Most AEG chapters offer networking, educational, and/or social events during the year for their members. These can include dinner meetings with speakers, student poster nights, short courses, field trips, and holiday or other social gatherings. Check out your Chapter's web page at www.aegweb.org/regions-chapters or contact any of the officers for more information.

AEG 68TH ANNUAL MEETING

Association of Environmental & Engineering Geologists

Chicago is one of the top tourist destinations in the United States for a reason. It's a welcoming city with plenty of world-class attractions. Located on Lake Michigan in Illinois, Chicago is famed for its bold architecture. In addition to engineering geology, the AEG 2025 Annual Meeting will focus on sustainability, health, climate change, and environmental geology.

The Meeting Hotel - Located in the heart of downtown Chicago in the prestigious River North neighborhood of the city, the Westin Chicago River North's location makes it a perfect base to explore the historic and energetic Windy City with nearby attractions including Millennium Park, Chicago theatre district, and the vibrant Chicago Riverwalk. Refreshed in early 2020, the flexible event space offers the perfect setting for meetings. Recharge in your choice of accommodations, from traditional rooms to luxury suites, all with a view of the Chicago River or the downtown skyline. Maintain your health goals with the delicious and healthy on-site dining at 320 RiverBar and the state-of-the-art WestinWorkout fitness studio. Enjoy complimentary fitness classes as well as Rise + Ride with Westin and Peloton.

How to Go to an AEG Chapter Meeting

PHYLLIS STECKEL, RG

There are plenty of reasons to go to an AEG Chapter meeting—networking, face time with some potential employers, and a good meal all make it worthwhile.

You may even get a peek into a new technical topic, business insight, or workplace opportunity. To make it count, here are a few “how to” suggestions.

First, dress for the occasion. The geoscience community is not a formal one. But if you take a swipe at some personal grooming and wear clean clothes, it looks like you practice basic hygiene. Clean jeans and a nice shirt say much more about you than muddy boots and a torn-and-worn T-shirt. Everyone else at that meeting has seen a lot more jobsite mud and stains than you have, so it will not be read as “recent field experience.” Aim for the clean-blue-jeans end of “business casual.”

Put your phone away. And turn it to silent.

Sit with people you don’t know. You will miss the biggest benefit of an AEG Chapter meeting if you sit with folks from your carpool. Mix it up. Ask to join a table of people who are older than you. They will appreciate a new face and will be happy to talk with you. And you will have more to talk about in the carpool going home.

Take some business cards. No need to list classes taken, GPA, or summer jobs; it’s not a resume—just your name, phone, email, school, major, and expected graduation date. Nothing fancy is needed, and you can easily make your own. You never know who may have an upcoming intern position, entry-level job, or special assignment. If there is a nibble, ask that person for their business card too.

Talk. Introduce yourself to others at your table. Say your name loud and clear enough so those across the table can hear you. Smile a little. Ask a question or two about others’ work or career paths. Listen politely with interest, even if it’s not all that interesting. Make regular eye contact without being creepy.

Shut up. Definitely join the conversation, but don’t monopolize or hijack it. It’s not all about you. Table conversations at AEG Chapter meetings rarely devolve into highly technical discussions. You won’t impress anyone by spouting off about a recent lab assignment. Most AEG members look forward to a pleasant meal and easy conversation. Don’t be surprised if there is little or no technical discussion at your table.

Alcohol? If you are of age, it is legal. But it may not be the best idea. Alcohol does not make you smarter, funnier, or more mature. Drink responsibly.

Leave with a good final impression. In most AEG chapters, student meals are subsidized or free. Let the officers, hosts, and speakers know that you appreciate their efforts and the Chapter’s generosity. Eye contact, a genuine smile, and a quick “Thank you—I had a great time” will be much appreciated.

Editor’s Note: This sage advice was composed by long-time AEG member and former Region 7 Director Phyllis Steckel, RG, who passed away July 26, 2023, as reported in the Winter 2023 issue of AEG News (vol. 66, no. 5, pp. 22–23). Readers may find more insights into Phyllis’ remarkable life, philosophy, and sense of humor in the Winter 2021 issue of AEG News (vol. 64, no. 5, pp. 18–21), which features a transcript of Acquisitions Editor Martha Whitney’s interview with Phyllis. Readers are encouraged to honor Phyllis’ memory by contributing to the AEG Foundation’s Diversity Scholarship and/or Diversity Field Trips Grant, two funds initiated and generously supported by Phyllis and her husband, Richard.

Annual Meeting
Chicago, Illinois
Sept 23–27, 2025
Westin Chicago River North

The City

Chicago is one of the top tourist destinations in the United States for a reason. It's a welcoming city with plenty of world-class attractions. Located on Lake Michigan, Chicago is famed for its bold architecture. In addition to engineering geology, the AEG 2025 Annual Meeting will focus on sustainability, health, climate change, and environmental geology.

The Meeting Hotel

Located in the heart of downtown Chicago in the prestigious River North neighborhood of the city, the Westin Chicago River North's location makes it a perfect base for exploring the historic and energetic Windy City with nearby attractions, including Millennium Park, the Chicago Theatre District, and the vibrant Riverwalk. Refreshed in early 2020, the flexible event space offers the perfect setting for meetings. Recharge in your choice of accommodations, from traditional rooms to luxury suites, all with a view of the Chicago River or the downtown skyline. Maintain your health goals with delicious and healthy on-site dining at 320 RiverBar and the state-of-the-art WestinWorkout fitness studio. Enjoy complimentary fitness classes, as well as Rise + Ride with Westin and Peloton.
